Fireball Has Built-In 'Tail Wind'

The world's first warplane using both conventional gasoline motor and jet propulsion, the Navy's new Fireball fighter—the Ryan FR-1—flies on either or both engines. Using only the 1350 h.p. gas engine driving the broad-bladed propeller, it can make 320 miles an hour. Using only the jet in the stern—a built-in tail wind—it makes 300 miles per hour. Combined speed is a secret. At top, the Fireball is shown in flight, while sketch below shows location of gas and jet engines.

'Big Five' Gains

THEY SAY the lessons we remember the best are those we learn the hard way, and on this basis the fiery conference of Big Five foreign ministers in London is likely to be productive in the long run, since it has defied sharp differences which must be reconciled if world peace is to prevail.

The fact that these divergencies exist shouldn't be discouraging. On the contrary, it has been certain all along that the remoulding of a large portion of our chaotic world would be attended by just such differences out into the open where they can be dealt with.

The main lesson of this two-fisted conference is that the United Nations must not—as they love their lives—accept the theory that the world has to be divided up again into air-tight spheres of influence among the big three or the Big Five or any other group of "Big." That's what makes war.

Of course there always will be groupings of nations to meet collective interests. But these must be beneficial groups which will be cooperative with one another. They must be such as will fit into the structure of our new World Security organization.

The trouble is that the "big" entertain a lot of hit suspicions on one another. Those suspicions can only be removed by putting all the cards on the table.

Snyder, In Report To Congress, Sees High Unemployment

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Reconversion Director John W. Snyder said today there may be 8,000,000 unemployed by next spring with "high unemployment" persisting through 1946.

He made this prediction in a 46-page report to the President and congress. It was his fourth report. He labeled it "three keys to reconversion—production, jobs, markets."

Snyder's forecast was based on the contention that job-giving will be unable to keep pace with a prospective million-a-month demobilization.

But he was "firmly optimistic" about the future, provided the nation works as a team. He asserted:

1—Prompt, peaceful settlement of labor-management differences is a reconversion "must."

2—Congress should act promptly on those four points in the President's program calling for "full employment, transitional tax adjustments, broadening and raising unemployment compensation, and raising minimum wages."

Three Tax Steps Urged

(Three tax steps recommended were: Repeal of the 3 per cent normal tax on individuals, repeal of the excess profits tax, effective Jan. 1 next, and setting a definite date for reducing excesses.)

3—The executive branch "must and will be as vigorous in its policies and programs to solve peacetime problems as it was in solving wartime problems."

4—Cooperation and teamwork among "management and labor, business and farmer, federal, state and local governments" is indispensable, if there is to be a rapid expansion of peacetime production, jobs for all those willing and able to work, and stable markets for business and agriculture.

Pointing to prospects of about 8,000,000 unemployed by spring, Snyder said the country must "face the fact that substantial unemployment lies ahead."

"That, in itself," he continued, "will not stamp reconversion successful or unsuccessful. It takes time for industry to turn around—to stop work on munitions and retool for work on peacetime products."

Assuring that the nation has "come a long way in reconversion," Snyder added:

"The initial shock is over. Most war contracts have been cancelled, most lay-offs are behind us. Though the government is withdrawing from the market on a record scale, there is an offset in pent-up, record-breaking demand for goods of all types by consumers and producers both at home and abroad."

Of the future the reconversion chief said:

"We are not seeking to go back to previous levels of employment or output. We are seeking to expand our output rapidly to 40 to 50 per cent above former peacetime levels."

13,000 QUIT JOBS IN DAYTON STRIKE

(By Associated Press)

A walkout in Dayton affecting 13,000 workers this morning marred Ohio's labor picture as two state work stoppages ended and idle unionists took steps to open a third strike-bound plant.

Employees of the General Motors Corp.'s five Frigidaire plants left their jobs at 6 a. m. today in protest against the "unjustified indefinite suspension of four workers."

In advance of Vinson's appearance, Republican tax leaders voiced demands for more substantial reductions than they expected the administration to present.

The Republicans want a slash of at least 20 per cent "across the board" on income taxes. They tied to their plan a demand for retrenchment in federal expenditures and resume negotiations.

The walkout started Sept. 10 to enforce demands for a bonus or incentive wage plan for the salaried workers, numbering 10,987. Their walkout led to the idleness of about 28,000 hourly workers, who were furloughed from their jobs.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Snyder (D-Pa.) handled the appropriations of funds "for, and maintained the secrecy of, the atomic bomb project," the group reported.

Another point made by the subcommittee, not directly connected with the atomic bomb, was that the War department is sustaining a loss of prestige among the troops in certain areas abroad because of the apparent lag in the discharge program.

CONFESSES MURDER OF PIQUA WOMAN

PIQUA, Oct. 1.—Sheriff Jay McKeever said today a man identified as Worley Evisizer, 67, confessed to McKeever and Coroner C. E. Thompson that he killed Mrs. Barbara Yoast, 38, and threw her body in nearby Kiser lake.

McKeever reported that Evisizer said he hit Mrs. Yoast with a rock Saturday during an argument in which she threatened to file Mann charges against him.

Coroner Thompson reported Mrs. Yoast was dead before her body was thrown in the lake.

QUESTION TWO IN BABY CASE

Officials Fear Foul Play In Disappearance of Child

Sheriff George Hayes, Wellsville police and county juvenile authorities are investigating further today the disappearance of a 17-month old baby girl from Mrs. Olive May Long, wife of an overseas serviceman, in Wellsville Friday evening.

Developments today have revealed that the baby was not kidnapped, as Mrs. Long originally reported to police.

Sheriff Hayes said Mrs. Long, who is being held in jail, later told police she had given the baby to a David Franklin of Canton, Police in Canton located the youth working in a railroad gang there. He is being turned over to officials here for questioning.

A three-year-old daughter of Mrs. Long told police in a rather disconnected story that her baby sister "was crying and a man with mother dipped the baby in the water (Ohio river) and the baby stopped crying."

This testimony and the other disjointed stories posed by Mrs. Long and Franklin, led authorities to believe the baby was murdered and disposed of.

Sheriff Hayes said the body of the child might possibly have been thrown on a passing freight train and he is checking railroad officials to have the Friday train searched.

Mrs. Long told police in her revised story that Franklin was the father of the baby. She is drawing a government allowance, on the basis that her husband, James, stationed in the Philippines, is the father of her third child.

In her original report to police Mrs. Long said the baby had been snatched from her arms by a "dark man" as she was walking along Main st. in Wellsville late Friday.

Body Is Found In River, Investigation Disputed

WARREN, Oct. 1.—Officials of Trumbull and Mahoning counties today disputed which should conduct an investigation into the death of an unidentified man, about 55, whose body was found Friday in the Mahoning river.

The body was found in Mahoning county but officials there contended the investigation was up to Trumbull because the body had been seen going over the Girard dam.

Pending a decision of the dispute, Trumbull County Coroner J. C. Henshaw ordered the body buried here.

YANKS BEGIN SEARCH FOR STOLEN LOOT

Bank of Japan, Nation's Largest Financial Institution, Affected

(By Associated Press)

TOKYO, Oct. 1.—American occupation authorities today began a quest for untold millions of dollars in gold, silver and currency which Japan was believed to have wrested from the lands it overran in its try for world domination.

The search paralleled other probes into imperialistic war-financing, made possible through General MacArthur's bold, secret seizure today of 21 government-controlled financial institutions in Tokyo and six other large cities, and the ousting of their officials.

Close Bank of Japan

The bank of Japan, the nation's largest financial institution, one-quarter owned by the Japanese imperial household, was closed by an order of the Allied command.

It will open tomorrow, said Col. R. P. Kramer, MacArthur's economic and scientific chief. "The Japanese provide full cooperation" in locating the assets of the seized institutions.

Bank officers pleaded last night they had insufficient time to produce the requested assets and records. They had received instructions from the finance ministry earlier, however, to have the requested material by last night.

American troops on guard around the bank assured depositors that their funds were safe.

The hunt for the missing funds that once belonged to the Philippines, China and other nations began with a conference of Col. Kramer and Viscount Keizo Shibusawa, governor of the Bank of Japan, and other leading Japanese financial figures.

The Japanese denied the Bank of Japan held any foreign money, denied any knowledge of a possible hiding place, and maintained they had no control over financial activities of field military commanders.

Militarists Controlled Loot

The militarists, the bankers said, had the power to either sell their looted assets and place the money in a special disbursement fund of the finance ministry, or "keep the assets for themselves."

The bankers gave Col. Kramer an estimate of the gold reserves of the Bank of Japan, which they said was Japan's total reserve except for small amounts earmarked for shipment to Indo-China and Siam, but the figure was not disclosed immediately.

Kramer previously had announced that the finance ministry estimated Japan's gold reserve at $125,000,000.

The bankers denied knowledge of full details on imperial household funds or where the imperial gold deposits might be located, but they disclosed the household owned approximately 25 per cent interest in the Bank of Japan, and the Japanese government owned a 55 per cent interest.

Probation Officer Quits After Episode

Probation Officer Russell Smith of East Liverpool today tendered his resignation to Probate Judge Milton E. Cope in Lisbon.

Smith's resignation followed an encounter late Thursday night with James Irey, Jr., fireman first class, at the home of Irey's wife, 1134 Oak st., when Irey arrived home from nearly two years' service overseas on a Navy destroyer.

SEEK HIT-SKIP IN ALLIANCE DEATH

Naegelen, retired, is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Harry Halt, with whom he lived.

Freedom's Foundation

It is too bad the principles of our national freedom have been talked about so long-windedly on so many inappropriate occasions that the subject has become a bore to some of our temperamental patriots who think they have important improvements to offer. At the risk of boring them some more, newspapers in the United States this week are going to celebrate National Newspaper week with as much publicity as they can muster on freedom of the press in particular, with special emphasis on what newspapers did to help win the war.

The newspapers' war efforts, of course, were sparked by desire to give the United States a maximum chance to remain free. As everyone knows, newspapers voluntarily shelved part of their own freedom of operation during the war to keep the enemy from getting important information the easy way. Anything as much worth having as freedom is worth sacrifices—if freedom can be saved thereby.

American newspapers, of course, ask no credit for protecting the freedom they cherish. They ask nothing but the privilege of continuing to operate in an atmosphere of freedom, which means the privilege of continuing to be part of a free country. Obviously, freedom is not a unilateral privilege; either all of us have it, or no one will have it. Freedom's foundation is tolerance of the other fellow's freedom—and his tolerance of yours.

Freedom of the press, in its simplest terms, is the right to say something, right or wrong, favorable or unfavorable, and to abide by the consequences. Unfortunately, the thoughtless and the vicious go only halfway on the proposition; they are for freedom of their press only—not the press that disagrees with them. They are the most insidious threat to freedom, not only freedom of the press but all freedom. At the instant we adopt intolerance, or fall into the error of irreconcilability, the world's most inspiring experiment in human organization will be a failure—and America will have wasted 150 years of history's most successful struggle to throw off the yoke of despotism.

The Other Fellow's Claim

Return of advance units of the 37th Ohio Division is great news. There is to be equally good news for almost a million and a half Pacific veterans and their families within the next seven months, the War department estimates. Shipping space for 725,000 will be available the next four months. In February, March and April, another 765,000 can be brought home.

Naturally, everybody wanting to get out of uniform likes to think his claim deserves preferential treatment; his family and friends agree. It is this very principle—that individual claims should be recognized—that is making demobilization extremely complicated. When he appeared before a group of congressmen to explain demobilization, Gen. Marshall, the chief of staff, said:

"In all of this business of demobilization it would have been much simpler and easier for the War department to have brought organizations and divisions back and demobilized them, as was done in the old AEF. They had only 2,000,000 men to bring into the United States in 1918. There was no confusing problem of arrested redeployment, and there was only one reinforced regiment—a regular regiment—to be left at Coblentz as the force of occupation. Everything else came back home. Gentlemen, we feel that with the necessity for occupation forces and with the redeployment to the Pacific—demobilization could only be done with reasonable justice on the basis of the individual and not on that of the units. Therefore, the point system."

Gen. Marshall, who knows all the problems entailed in trying to deal with millions of men as individuals, in the spirit of democracy, feels that demobilization is going as well as it can be expected to go in view of the handicaps it has to surmount. No one ever proposes applause for military officials once a war is safely won, but it is evident that the War department is doing a better job on demobilization than anyone dared to think could be done before demobilization began.

Calling A Debt A Debt

In the closing passages of Senate debate on the booby-trapped full employment bill, the senators began to call a debt a debt. Senator O'Mahoney, one of the bill's supporters, finally got down to brass tacks on the real reason why an administration that has run the national debt up to better than 200 billion dollars wants jobs for everybody—so it can collect taxes from everybody.

"The opponents of the bill," he said, criticize it upon the ground that we cannot provide for public works and federal expenditures without increasing the debt. The answer to that is that we cannot pay the interest on the national debt unless we have full employment; and if we are going to avoid full employment by the government under some totalitarian system, then I say that a democratic legislature had better get busy planning to avoid totalitarianism. We cannot permit the national income to drop and hope to keep the federal revenue high. If we permit the national income to drop, the revenue will fall off; but whether or not we allow the revenue to drop the debt will stay where it is."

(The national debt, gross, now stands at approximately 262 billion dollars and bears interest at the rate of more than five billion dollars a year.)

Give Us Time

Nothing short of another war would make the country as a whole go to daylight-saving time. There is even some doubt whether Congress, which has heard farmers complain about it in the last two years, would think another war justified daylight saving.

Yet, the fact is that its use during the war has gained millions of converts who would like to continue to enjoy saving daylight, especially during the summer. They are aware of the disadvantage of local action, but feel that there should be some way to obtain the benefit they want.

The obvious way, of course, would be greater use of a practice that has been growing in recent years—the practice of having summer and winter hours in business establishments. During summer, starting time is earlier. At the change of the seasons, it is moved back. The purpose is not to save electrical energy, as it is in wartime, but merely to take advantage of the longer days during the season of outdoor enjoyment.

Carbon Monoxide Gas Is Dangerous

By HERMAN N. BUNDSEN, M. D.

THE danger of carbon monoxide poisoning has increased in late years with the introduction of illuminating gas for domestic use, the widespread use of automobiles, and the development of various industries in which carbon monoxide may be encountered.

There is a great difference in the susceptibility of different people to carbon monoxide even under the same conditions. The chief damaging effect is on the circulation and there is practically no part of the body which may not suffer. It has been observed that when the poisoning occurs, there is an increase in the number of red cells in the blood, as well as in the amount of hemoglobin or coloring matter.

The gas also tends to cause the blood vessels to dilate which may lead to hemorrhage into various parts of the body. It would not appear that there is any direct effect on the heart. The blood pressure tends to rise at first and then to drop.

One of the early symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning is headache, which is followed sooner or later by irritability, fatigue and general weakness. Headache is one of the earliest warning signs of carbon monoxide poisoning and whenever persons who are working where they may be exposed to this gas develop headache, immediate precautions should be taken against any further exposure.

The effect of the gas on the nervous system may lead to spasm of the muscles and mental disturbances.

Chronic Poisoning

There has been some question as to whether or not there is such a thing as chronic or long continued carbon monoxide poisoning. There are many who believe that such a condition does exist in persons who are exposed to the gas in small amounts over long periods of time.

In any event, carbon monoxide poisoning is extremely dangerous and every possible step should be taken to prevent it. Of course, the best preventive would be to avoid pollution of the air with carbon monoxide. This may be accomplished by proper engineering methods and sufficient ventilation.

Personal Precautions. Whenever a person must enter an enclosure where the presence of carbon monoxide is suspected, he should wear a safety line and open air respirator. During his stay in the enclosure, he should be watched by persons who are familiar with the signs and symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning so that, should any develop, he may be immediately removed.

Persons suffering from heart disease, hardened arteries and similar conditions should be excluded from any work in which there is any danger of exposure to carbon monoxide. The same is true of persons suffering from lung disorders such as tuberculosis. Attention to these things may save many lives.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. G. R.:—I have been annoyed by a disagreeable odor from my scalp. I do not have any dandruff, but my hair is quite heavy and oily. What can I do?

Answer:—It is probable that such odor as is produced on your scalp is due to the oil. The condition is not due to any internal disorder. I have outlined some suggestions concerning care of the hair and scalp which I shall be glad to send you if you will write again enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Your name will not be used.

Progress Reported On Leetonia Pretzel Plant

LEETONIA, Oct. 1.—Despite bad weather, a lack of skilled labor and the slowness in delivery of materials, the new Berg Pretzel and Potato Chip plant is progressing satisfactorily.

It is not too far behind construction schedule, according to Ralph Kennedy, plant manager. It is expected that the chip factory, which is the first of three buildings to be erected, will be completed and in operation within the next month.

Construction on the second building to house the new pretzel making equipment was started this week and will be pushed along as rapidly as possible. The second structure will be 42 feet wide and 222 feet in length. A third building, to be used as a storage house and similar in size to the first building, will be started as soon as the second structure is finished.

Fall Is Good Time To Set Out Shrubbery

There is a great advantage in setting out nursery stock as early as possible in the fall.

The root growth that is developed this fall is of great value to rugged growth anchors the tree or bush so that the strong winter winds cannot uproot or cause air pockets which is often the reason why late transplanted stock is lost.

Mr. Cope of the Cope Bros. and Nurseries on Depot road is always pleased to advise you just how to prepare the soil for different kinds of trees, flowering shrubs or other nursery stock and he suggests that you do take advantage of early planting.

You are invited to come out to the nursery and pick out the exact specimen you wish. It will be dug when you are ready to transplant. In this way there will be little chance of root damage by drying.

One of the first of the new post-war products to be offered for sale in Salem is the 1/2-Ton Utility Trailer, manufactured by the American Bantam Car Co. at Butler, Pa. The first of these is on display at H. I. Hine Motor Co., W. State st.

The 1/2-ton utility is the peace-time counterpart of the light amphibious all steel trailer manufactured for three years by American Bantam for the Allied armies, and seen by millions of service men throughout the world.

It is now said that there are a thousand uses for this trailer—from use by the average American family for pleasure trips to many uses in business and industry.

Advantages of Home Insulation Numerous

Insulating has other advantages besides just the saving in fuel cost, your home will not be drafty and that will lessen the chance for children, who play on the floor to catch colds and next summer you will find your home to be ten to as much as 20 degrees cooler than it was before.

Another advantage is its fire-retarding value, that is if you use the accepted Johns-Manville "Blown" Rock Wool which is positively fire-proof.

Experienced workmen can apply Johns-Manville "Blown" Rock Wool in any home without disturbing the family and when they are through there is no repair work to be done.

R. B. Finley of the Finley Music Co. is the Columbiana county representative who will be pleased to make an inspection of your home.

TECHNIQUE OF BEST VIOLINIST ON FILM

CHICAGO—For the first time in history, the playing technique of a great artist has been recorded on high-speed film at the rate of 1,000 exposures a second. The experiment may revolutionize the teaching of violin playing.

David P. Boder, professor of psychology at the Illinois Institute of Technology, had the film made as part of a threefold study of the psychology of music.

In the experiment, Nathan Milstein played difficult passages from a violin concerto, and because of the intensity of the lights needed for the photography, he wore dark glasses. Only his hands were photographed.

Boder contends that violinists whose hands differ in size should be taught in different ways and he hopes that a series of film records which show in minute detail just what the great artists do with their hands will back up his contention.

The tests may also disprove many current ideas in the teaching of violin playing. Prof. Boder and his staff expect to extend the filming to other types of artists.

The filming is being handled by scientists from the Armour Research foundation of the institute, working with the Chicago Symphony orchestra. Members of the orchestra and visiting artists are slated to take part in the experiment.

Inflation In Philippines Runs Wild, Worry To Government and Businesses

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON—Unchecked inflation sweeping over the Philippines has aroused United States government agencies and private business.

The Army discontinues supplying civilian relief needs to Filipinos Sept. 1.

Then the Foreign Economic Administration is prepared to offer a big helping hand through the Philippine Trade Advisory Board, representing United States business firms with prewar contacts in the Philippines.

Together government and business hope to move enough rehabilitation supplies into the islands to wreck the black marketeers who have made living costs in Manila increase eight times over the prewar prices.

Private traders are counted upon to furnish the bulk of the goods needed, with FEA filling in the scarce supplies through its subsidiary, the U. S. Commercial Company.

In combating the menace, the Commonwealth government has been severely handicapped by a lack of funds. Filipino officials are hoping FEA and PTA will start a flow of reconstruction goods, ranging from tractors to needles, which will steady the country's shaky economic structure.

Black Market Is Rife

One of the main problems will be Manila's super black market, the source of virtually every product sold in the Philippine capital, and operated on such an alarming scale that the Commerce Department recently said:

"Goods are sold quite openly in market stalls and in dingy stores established in the ruins of buildings at prices 5 to 10 or more times the official ceilings. Aside from the relatively small sales of food, at government stores and commissaries, indeed, no goods are available at ceiling prices."

The Department's report cited the efforts of American government representatives to obtain a few kitchen items:

"Glasses of a type that sell in the United States for five cents could not be obtained for less than $3 each. A cup and saucer of the cheapest type cost about the same; an ordinary plate sold at $3 to $5; an old-fashioned enamelware coffee pot—holding about six cups—cost $20. Prices of pots and pans were in proportion."

Most early shipments of civilian goods are expected to go to private buyers. The Commonwealth government, potentially the biggest customer, still has virtually all its funds frozen in the United States.

Faced with a devastated country which will require $750,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 to repair, Filipino officials are clamoring for action.

One of the most immediate measures on the U. S. Senate docket would free about $112,000,000 in Philippine funds held in the United States.

In the Meantime

But until the tangled Filipino relief measures are approved by the Senate and House, President Sergio Osmena and his aides are pinning their hopes on the FEA-private business combination.

The Filipino government has helped the Army to re-open 13 camps and the Army has agreed to set aside a number of warehouses and sorting sheds.

As an added step aimed at controlling inflation, the Osmena regime has promised to institute enforceable price ceilings and an equitable rationing system.

FEA has drawn up a list of critically needed commodities to guide exporters in filling orders. Ranking high are food, clothing, textiles, medicines, drugs, hand tools, agricultural equipment, fertilizers and trucks.

Filipino government officials are also hoping for immediate help from the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration and for further aid from the Army.

But UNRRA must decide how much and, if any, the Philippines are entitled to. And the Army must decide whether any surplus equipment can be left in the islands.

Red For Redheads No Longer Taboo

By ALICIA HART

The ancient taboo which kept redheads from wearing red accents in dress has been lifted, thanks to technicolor movies which have proven how wrong this rule is.

But even in technicolor, the chosen red accents rarely have blue tones lurking in them, and they are used for touches which are usually kept away from a girl's hair.

Red notes which make the most pleasing harmonies for the girl with the vivid aureole are related to the hue of her hair, so one expert tells me. In choice of costume colors for the redhead, he says, green in any shade is tops and that the perfect foil for the girl who doesn't want to whoop it up in dress is black.

Keeping your lipstick shade to whatever red note you wear in a costume is a rule most girls can use to advantage, but is one which the redhead must follow slavishly.

POINT REWARD FOR USED FATS DOUBLED

4 points instead of 2 for every pound!

EVERY one of you housewives in America, in your own kitchen, can speed the return of larger supplies of soaps and all the peacetime things you have been waiting for so long. You can do it by saving more used fats... every drop you can scrape or skim. It's as urgently needed as ever. So keep doing it, won't you?

You women of America have done a magnificent job of saving used fats during the war, but victory has not ended the need. The fat supply for the manufacture of soap and other long-wanted products is millions of pounds less in 1945 than it was in 1944. That is why the government offers four ration points instead of two for every pound of used fats you turn in.

By skimming, scooping and scraping every last drop of used fat, you can help increase your own home supplies of soaps, soap flakes and powders more quickly. And not only soaps. But the nylons, cottons, electric washers, irons, refrigerators, automobiles and hundreds of other peacetime products we've all been waiting for.

The fats saved in your kitchen are urgently needed to help get peacetime goods back into production... and back to you... more quickly. So won't you keep up the good work even though the war is over? You'll help to fill your own needs for soaps and the civilian goods you're dreaming of. Remember, every drop of used fat is still vitally important. Keep saving, won't you?

Your Used Fats help make the Peacetime Products You Want

Hank Greenberg's Grand Slam Homer Puts Tigers "In" 6-3

GOLD-PLATED WORLD SERIES SEEN BETWEEN DETROIT, CUBS

By JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hank Greenberg's $300,000 home run has set the stage for a gold-plated World Series.

Presence of the Bengals and Bruins, two of the game's top attractions in two of the nation's best baseball towns, assures a player pool of near-record portions.

The players could split approximately $500,000 on a 60-40 basis which would mean a generous slice of three hundred grand to the victors. A Washington pennant would have made a deep gouge in the player melon because of the limited seating capacity of Griffith stadium.

Greenberg's lusty clout into the left field stands at Sportsman's park in the ninth inning of yesterday's pennant ball game climaxed several weeks of anxious waiting by Tiger patrons who had seen their favorites accused of "backing in" to the flag.

Detroit hadn't been too sure about sweeping the final pair from the St. Louis Browns and had made tentative arrangements to hold out Hal Newhouse for a playoff game that never will be played.

Washington, which finished its season a week ago, had been hoping for a miracle double victory by the defending champion Browns.

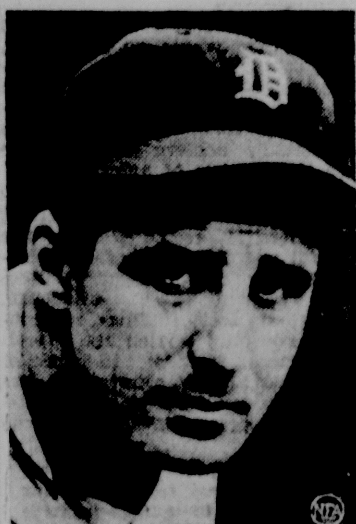

When Virgil Trucks weakened in the sixth, Steve O'Neill replaced the recently discharged sailor with his No. 1 boy, Newhouse. Newhouse came away with his 25th victory, 6-3, and the flag.

Stirnweiss Wins

George Stirnweiss of the Yanks surprisingly won the American batting title yesterday with three hits in New York's 12-2 romp over Boston, advancing to 309, one point ahead of Chicago's Tony Cuccinello who was rained out of a final doubleheader with Cleveland. The Yanks finished fourth, lowest since 1925, and worst in the Joe McCarthy regime.

Chief interest in the National league's final day was the hitting duel between Phil Cavaretta of Chicago and Tommy Holmes of Boston, won by the Cubs' first sacker, 355 to 352. Two safe blows in a "mean nothing" 5-3 decision over Pittsburgh saved the day for Cavaretta.

Holmes collected four hits although his club was shut out, 1-0, by Rookie Don Fisher of the Giants in a 13-inning first game. But the Braves' left fielder was horsecollared in the second contest.

a 2-2 tie called at the end of seven frames because of darkness. Nap Reyes' homer copped the opener.

St. Louis Beats Reds

Harry Brecheen added another victory to make his leading season record 15-4 by hurling St. Louis to a 3-2 edge over Cincinnati, a contest won in the 12th by Del Rice's first big league homer.

Ed Stanky set a new league record by drawing his 14th base on balls as Hal Gregg hung up his 18th decision, a 4-1 Brooklyn triumph over the Phillies.

The Dodgers took third money in the league, behind the abdicating champion Cardinals and Pittsburgh called to take fourth. Mel Ott's Giants lacked the pitching to make a run of it and settled for fifth followed by the Braves, Reds and Phillies who finished 52 games to the rear of the Cubs.

SALEM LOSES 5-3 TO CANTON STARS

Lefty Smith Out-Hurled by Charlie Markoski In Air-Tight Battle

Canton's All-Stars were a mite too star-studded for the Salem Athletics at Centennial park yesterday afternoon as they won out 5-3 in a baseball game which was all-pitchers until the final frame.

Before about 1,000 fans, the Athletics stepped off to a 1-0 lead in the first, dropped behind 2-1 in the fourth and then missed out on a tying possibility in the eighth before three more Canton runs made it seem hopeless in the final inning.

Charlie Markoski kept the visitors in excellent shape by out-hurling Salem's Frank "Lefty" Smith.

Markoski allowed the locals but six hits. He fanned eight Salemites and walked four.

Smith issued four walks, fanned nine batters and allowed seven hits. Salem's run in the first inning scored when Betty Morrison, who had walked, crossed the platter on Bus Simpson's sharp single to right center.

Canton Rallies

Canton came back after three scoreless innings to bunch a pair of hits by Sam Purres and Andy Sinay with Betty Morrison's error. Two runs crossed the plate before the three outs were complete and the visitors led 2-1.

Salem tried hard to score, nearly making the grade in the eighth when Markoski walked two men. He fanned Danny Kenst to end.

Smith's single started the base circling in the ninth. Red Michaels was safe on Smith's error and Tony Mastriano bunted and was safe on a fielder's choice as Michaels was forced at third. Sinay scored and Mastriano went to second on the play.

Joe Chismar drew a base on balls, leading the sacks with one away. Bob Roman struck out and Mastriano and Chismar scored on Markoski's single. Knoch fanned to end the inning for Canton. It was 5-1.

Salem started in and made it look hopeful. Al Catlos led off with a single and Lefty Smith was tagged by a pitched ball before anyone was out. Then Morrison got his second single in three trips to score Catlos and send Smith to third.

Scullion was safe on a fielder's choice and Smith scored with the third Salem run. Simpson and Hrovatic were retired and the threat ended.

The World Today

cards on the table. That's why the Foreign Ministers' council has been doing useful work.

John M. Hightower, AP diplomatic news editor in Washington, says the tensions developed between Russia and the Anglo-American Allies, are viewed in the capital as springing mainly from two sources: (1) An evident desire of London and Washington to check the extent of Russia's direct control over countries in eastern Europe. (2) Prolonged uncertainty in the American government over what to do with the atomic bomb secret.

There, I judge, we see the suspicions at work on both sides. Apropos of the atomic bomb, a London dispatch records an incident showing the bargaining power which the bomb gives Uncle Sam. Russian Foreign Commissar Molotov remarked at a dinner party that U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes "doesn't need to persuade anyone—he just has to hold up a little bomb." Well, of course that must be labeled as a wise-crack—but I think we may assume it was intended to pack a wallop.

Now there are two ways of dealing with these suspicions and differences of opinion. One is to bring them into the open and thresh them out with toleration. The other is to cultivate them until finally they have to be settled in another world upheaval. We can take encouragement from the fact that all the Allies appear to be anxiously seeking a peaceful solution.

One of the most hopeful developments of the foreign ministers' conference has been the American proposal, put forward by Secretary Byrnes, that the carrying out of the Japanese surrender terms be placed under the direction of a Far Eastern commission. This would comprise not only America, Russia, Britain and China but France, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand, Canada and the Netherlands.
